PREFACE.

It has been a great pleasure to the author of this work for a number of years past to collect together and publish in book form for permanent preservation, genealogies of his ancestry through various lines of descent from pioneer ancestors, as well as those of other families not related to him. In the present instance, though not connected in any way by the ties of blood, he was happily impressed with the idea of compiling and publishing this work from a long and intimate acquaintance from boyhood with members of the family, some of whom were his schoolmates, and one of his early teachers in the public school is a member of the family, and the fact that he made his home with members of the family for some years, and from which associations he has many happy and tender recollections.

One of the chief objects, however, of this work, as all genealogies are, is to preserve from oblivion the more remote history of the pioneer ancestor, Andrew Newbaker, and his immediate descendants from father to son down to the present generation of the family, for the benefit of future generations.

The study of Genealogy is both interesting and of great value. Its effects ought to be beneficial in maintaining the honor and integrity of a family extending through a long line of progenitors whose memory should be cherished with loyal devotion to endless day, and whose virtues are worthy of emulation.

It is commendable to be familiar with one's family history, and eminently proper to put it on record in convenient form for the benefit of future generations. Such records will be of incalculable value to generations yet unborn, and will be highly prized by them. These genealogical trees will become heirlooms in the family, and volumes will be sought for and placed in public libraries. In the family, too, they will wield an influence, as the lives of unselfish devotion to God, conscience and family, of the forefathers, are recounted, to keep unsullied the family name.

ANDREW NEWBAKER HOMESTEAD
Hardwick Township, Warren County, New Jersey

HARMONY M. E. CHURCH, NEAR STILLWATER, N. J.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF STILLWATER, N. J.

THE NEWBAKER FAMILY OF HARDWICK, N. J.

1. Andrew Newbaker, pioneer and progenitor of the Newbaker family of New Jersey, was born in Germany or Holland in 1759. The date of his emigration to America is not known, but evidently was some time prior to about 1790. A brother by the name of John came with him, and located somewhere in Pennsylvania.

A German or Dutch Bible was brought along from the fatherland, and was in the possession of the late Charles H. Newbaker, which may have contained some old family records, but the Bible has gone astray and cannot be found.

Andrew Newbaker settled in Hardwick township, Warren county, N. J., about three miles west of the village of Stillwater, on the farm later devised to his son, Charles H. Newbaker, and now owned and occupied by Alonzo Hul. The present residence is a modern structure erected by the present owner. There are conveyances of record to Andrew Newbaker for lands in Hardwick township in the years 1826-1830. Grantors, Amos Ogden and Samuel Livingston. He was possessed of considerable property and presented each of his children with a farm.

He was married in March, 1792, to Mary Ann Kishenguth. She was of Holland Dutch descent, and was born January 13, 1771; died November 27, 1850. Later in life they removed to a farm near Blairstown, now owned by William Hill, where they lived until their death, he dying August 19, 1841. They were members of the Reformed church at Stillwater, of which the Rev. Jacob Senn was pastor, the name of Andrew Newbaker being in a list of church members in 1791. After the breaking up of the Reformed church at Stillwater they evidently united with the Presbyterian church. Their tombstones at Stillwater bear the following inscriptions:

IN MEMORY OF
ANDREW NEWBAKER
WHO DEPARTED THIS LIFE
AUGUST 19, 1841

Aged 82 Years

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

IN MEMORY OF
MARY ANN, WIFE OF
ANDREW NEWBAKER
WHO DEPARTED THIS LIFE
NOVEMBER 27, 1850

Aged 79 years, 10 months, 14 days

"I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

Letters of administration were granted September 7, 1841, to Mary Ann Newbaker and Charles H. Newbaker.

The following children were born to them, viz: Elizabeth, Elsey, Lydia, Jacob, Anna, Sarah, Phoebe, Catharine, Charles.

III. Sarah Ann Hankinson, b. near Middleville, N. J., February 13, 1829, m. Isaac R. Koukle, September 18, 1843. He was a son of John B. and Mary (Read) Koukle, and was born Hardwick township, Sussex county, (now Warren county), N. J., June 6, 1819, on his grandfather's farm, about three miles northwest of Marksboro, now owned by Clark Hill. He lived all his life in Hardwick, within a few miles from where he was born. He commenced housekeeping on his father's farm, which was a part of his grandfather's farm. He lived there about two years, when he moved to Koukle's Corner, on a property now owned by Abraham K. Wintermute, where he lived for thirteen years, during which time he worked at his trade as a carpenter, having previously served an apprenticeship with Silas Casterline.

In 1858 he gave up his trade and moved on the farm of his father-in-law, Thomas H. Hankinson, and took up the occupation of a farmer, where he remained till 1869, when he removed to the Garner H. Bowers farm near Squires' corner, which he had purchased two years previous, and where he continued farming until his death, February 9, 1904. Christian church, C. IV. Andrew Hankinson Koukle, b. August 25, 1844, on a farm at that time owned by his grandfather, John B. Koukle, and within an eighth of a mile from where Isaac R. Koukle, the father of Andrew, was born. The farm is now owned by Theodore Wilson, who married Florence Koukle, a sister of Andrew, this farm having been in the Koukle family for one hundred and forty years.

Andrew attended the district school in his neighborhood until he was about fifteen years of age, when he entered the Blainstown academy, then under the principalship of J. Henry Johnson. He attended there during the winter terms, and worked at home on the farm in the summer, up to the age of eighteen, when he sought schooling during the winter months and continued to work on the farm.

summer. At the age of 21 he took up the profession of surveyor, doing considerable work in that line in his neighborhood until 1872, when he removed to Newton, N. J., where he has made Surveying and Civil Engineering his entire work up to the present time, doing work throughout the whole of Sussex county and adjoining territory, occasionally going beyond the state lines into Pennsylvania and New York.

He has been twice married. His first wife was Aelsah A., daughter of Aaron and Mary A. (Kerr) Luse, whom he married March 22, 1866. She d March 31, 1901. He married as his second wife Mary E., daughter of John S. and Mary (Stoll) DePue, June 26, 1902. P O Newton, N. J. Christian church. No issue.

III. Elijah Hankinson, b near Losey's schoolhouse, in Stillwater township, Sussex county, N. J., September 18, 1827, m Mary C. Schooley, daughter of Aaron C. Schooley, of Stillwater township, in May, 1856. She was b November 3, 1832.

When Elijah was about two years of age the family removed to Hardwick township, Warren county, on the farm afterward known as the "Homestead," where his parents spent the rest of their lives. Here Elijah grew up, and here he lived for two years after his marriage. In the spring of 1858 he removed to the farm "over the mountain," near Millbrook, in Pabaquarry township, which was the home for fifteen years, and where the four younger children were born.

In 1873, through business reverses, it was necessary to give up the farm, and the family removed to Stillwater. In his young manhood Elijah had taught in district schools for two or three winters, and now, after twenty years of life as a farmer, he was able to qualify for teaching again, and spent the remaining nine years of his life in this work. By so doing he kept up the home, and enabled the children to fit themselves for the same profession.

In the summer of 1881 he became ill, and though he began his school work again in September it was necessary to give it up soon after, and he returned home. After a painful illness his death occurred on March 17, 1882.

He became a member of the Stillwater Presbyterian church in youth, and remained in membership all his life, the Rev. T. B. Condit, who had received him into membership, preaching his funeral.

His wife survived him for more than seven years, her death occurring September 20, 1889, at Blairs-town, N. J., to which place the family had lately removed. She was buried beside her husband in the Stillwater cemetery. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. C, George, Olive, Sallie, Frank, Fannie.

W. George A. V. Hankinson, b in Hardwick township, Warren county, N. J., February 1, 1857. When one year old the family removed to Millbrook, in the same county, and at sixteen years of age to Stillwater, Sussex county. He attended the public schools in those two places, and afterward studied under a private tutor. He began teaching in 1875, and taught in Sussex and Warren counties until 1888, when he was elected principal of the public school at Mountain View, Passaic county, and in 1893 became principal of the school at Little Falls. In 1900 he resigned that position and became editor and proprietor of the Westfield Leader at Westfield, New Jersey.

June 27, 1894, he married Alice A., daughter of J. G. Smith, of Delaware, N. J. He is a member of and an officer in the First Presbyterian Church of Westfield. Res. 46 Walnut Street, Westfield, N. J. No issue.

VI. Frank Hankinson, b. on the Hankinson farm, near Millbrook, N. J., March 31, 1866. When he was seven years of age the family removed to Stillwater, and here his boyhood and early manhood were spent. At the age of 17 he began teaching in a country school near Branchville, and was afterwards in charge of several village schools, teaching two years at Fredon, Johnsonsburg and Blairstown. He then entered the State Normal School at West Chester, Pa., graduating from both the Normal course and the Scientific course, and was later graduated from New York University.

In 1893 he was elected head of the department of Mathematics in the Boys' High School at Reading, Pa., and was afterwards made Vice-Principal of the school. Here he remained for ten years, and here, June 28, 1900, he married Mabel Z., daughter of E. S. Lichtenthaler.

While living in Reading he was elected superintendent of the First Presbyterian Sunday School, and was ordained a ruling elder of the church.

In 1903 he resigned from the Reading position and became teacher of Mathematics in the Manual Training High School of Brooklyn, N. Y., which position he now holds. Congregationalist. C,

DESCENDANTS OF ANNA MARY NEWBAKER
DAUGHTER OF ANDREW NEWBAKER

II. Anna Mary Newbaker, b March 15, 1804, d January 30, 1879, m John Vought, January 6, 1820. He was b June 28, 1793, d February 11, 1847. He was a son of Andrew Vought, who came from Germany, and was one of the early settlers of Frelinghuysen, Warren county, New Jersey. The tradition of the family is that three brothers came from Germany. Two settled in Frelinghuysen township, and the other brother located elsewhere and was lost sight of. Andrew Vought settled on a farm of 125 acres in Frelinghuysen township, then a complete wilderness tract, which he cleared and improved. The old homestead was conveyed to his son, John Vought, and is now owned and occupied by the latter's youngest son, Levi L. Vought. John Vought and wife were earnest and faithful members of the Methodist Episcopal church at Stillwater, where they were buried. VALEDICTION

As we reach the close of this little volume, and ere we lay down our pen, we add a few parting words.

About one hundred and twenty five years ago the pioneer ancestor of the Newbaker family emigrated from Europe to America. The motive that led him to cross the ocean to these shores is unknown. Perhaps he, in common with others, came hither to better himself in temporal affairs. Here he established his home, and by industry and frugality accumulated much property.

He reared a large and interesting family to bless his days. His home was a Christian home, and his family were taught to revere the religion of Jesus Christ, to honor God's house, and by his Godly example and instruction they were early led to secure an interest in saving grace, and to identify themselves with the church of Jesus Christ.

The name of the progenitor is found in a list of members of the German or Dutch Reformed church at Stillwater in 1791. The old stone church in which he worshiped stood on the east side of the road, just within the enclosing wall of the old graveyard. After services were discontinued in this church he evidently worshiped with the Presbyterians the remainder of his life.

The Newbaker family and their descendants, as a whole, were, and are, a Christian people, and for the most part connected with the Presbyterian and the Methodist Episcopal churches. Many of the family were members of and worshiped at the Presbyterian church at Stillwater, of which the Rev. T. B. Condit, one of the most eminent divines of the Presbyterian church of New Jersey, was pastor for 43 years, and who, during his long and eventful pastorate, received into membership in the church, baptized, performed the rite of holy matrimony, and preached the funeral sermons of many members of the family. Others were members of, and worshiped at, the Harmony Methodist Episcopal church near Stillwater, and in the graveyards of these two churches were laid to rest all that was mortal of many of the descendants to await the final resurrection of the body.

The pious ancestors have long since gone to their eternal rest. May we ever bless their memory for their unyielding faith in God and the world's Redeemer. They fought well the battles of life, and thus they have passed on to their eternal rewards. May their self-denying, Godly lives and examples rest with benediction power upon us while we bide our time and follow in their footsteps, preserving unsullied the family name.

Dear reader, are you a follower of Jesus? If not, let me remind you of the saintly, Godly ancestors whose forms have so long slept in their quiet graves, of their suffering for the faith, their victory in death, their crowning in the Father's House, where they await the home-coming of the faithful loved ones. Let me point you to the Saviour they loved, and to the God they served. Let me entreat you to do likewise.

A. J. FRETZ.
